Public Input Meeting Scheduled for Bond Advisory Committee

New Braunfels, Texas —On Tuesday, January 15th, the City of New Braunfels' Bond Advisory Committee will hold a second public input meeting at the Renew Church (2240 FM 725) beginning at 6:30 p.m.

The New Braunfels City Council appointed committee is charged with developing recommendations to Council on the advisability of a bond election and the potential propositions that could be presented to voters during a proposed May 11, 2013 Bond Election.

The committee has held a series of meetings where possible projects were identified and reviewed in the areas of drainage, streets, parks and municipal facilities, along with a session on financial data related to capital improvements projects. While public comment was taken at each of those meetings, citizens are encouraged to attend the January 15th meeting devoted to public input to state their ideas, concerns and questions.

Continually updated information on this project, including the schedule and agendas for upcoming meetings and presentations from preceding meetings, is available on the city website at www.nbtexas.org/bondelection.
