Proposed Veramendi Development Now Available For Viewing

New Braunfels, Texas — The City of New Braunfels has made the proposed draft agreement for the Veramendi Development available for viewing on the City's website. The draft Development Agreement details the commitments of the parties and includes most of the associated exhibits referenced throughout the document. The draft agreement and exhibits are available online at: Veramendi Development

On February 25, the City Council will consider the proposed Veramendi Development Agreement and the creation of the Water Improvement District associated with the development.
