Award-Winning Musician Joe McDermott Performs Thursday

New Braunfels, Texas —The New Braunfels Public Library is presenting Parents' Choice Award-winning musician Joe McDermott, who will perform a free show for all ages at the Westside Community Center at 10 a.m. on Thursday, August 15th. The Westside Community Center is located at 2932 South IH-35. The event is part of the New Braunfels Public Library summer reading program.

McDermott, who has performed with the Austin Symphony and won the National Parenting Publications Gold Award, is known for his outstanding arrangements of original children's songs in diverse musical styles like doo-wop, big band, and soul.

"Joe is one of our favorite performers every year," said Library Director Gretchen Pruett. "Adults enjoy his music as much as children do."

For more information, call the library at 830-221-4300.
