Library Hosts Stuffed Animal Sleepover

New Braunfels, TX - The New Braunfels Public Library will hold its Second Annual Stuffed Animal Sleepover this Saturday, February 8th, beginning at 4:30 p.m. Children and their parents are invited to come to the library with their favorite stuffed animal for bedtime stories, crafts and lullabies. When the library closes, the stuffed animals will stay at the library for a fun sleepover. Children and their parents will return to retrieve their stuffed animal when the library opens at 1 p.m. on Sunday.

“Last year’s Stuffed Animal Sleepover was such a success that we’ve decided to make it an annual event,” said Children’s Librarian, Jenny Rodriguez. “Library staff will share pictures of the animals’ activities via Facebook so children can see all the interesting things their stuffed animal does at the library overnight - like read books on an iPad with Tumblebooks, play games on a computer, or have a cup of cocoa. It’s an opportunity to spotlight library services and programs in a way that is very fun for everyone.”
