Repaving on Chestnut Avenue Scheduled

New Braunfels, TX – The City of New Braunfels has announced that construction will begin May 1st on the segment of Chestnut Avenue between Coll Street and Cross Street. Old pavement will be removed and the street will be repaved with new asphalt as part of the City’s on-going Streets Maintenance Program.

The project is expected to take approximately seven days to complete, weather and other factors permitting, and traffic delays are likely in the area.

For additional information, please contact John Cox, Street and Drainage Manager at (830) 221-4030.
