Firefighters Supporting Breast Cancer Awareness in October

New Braunfels, Texas — Members of the New Braunfels Professional Firefighters Association are showing their support for Breast Cancer Awareness Month in October by placing the pink ribbon symbol on all fire apparatus, support vehicles and ambulances.

“Our vehicles have high visibility in the community and displaying the international symbol used to promote breast cancer awareness is one way in which we can publically support this important program,” said James Sellers, Vice President of the New Braunfels Professional Firefighters Association.

The Association has 116 members and exists to provide support and assistance to its members as well as local community support activities such as the annual Box Fan Drive, Dog Days of Summer Run and sponsoring families during the holidays. Membership is limited to active, uniformed firefighters and honorary members who have provided meritorious and distinguished service to the association or the public.
