Library Adjusts Paws to Read Schedule

New Braunfels, TX - The New Braunfels Public Library is changing the hours of its Paws to Read program, effective immediately. The program, which allows young readers the opportunity to read to therapy dogs and cats, will now be held in the large meeting room for one hour each Monday afternoon, from 3:30 to 4:30 p.m.

“This is a very popular program, but with school starting up, the retirement of one of our very special dogs, and some other scheduling issues, we felt it was a good idea to present the program during the hour when it is best attended,” said Library Director Gretchen Pruett. “Therapy animals are great for helping beginning readers become more comfortable reading out loud. This offering has been very successful at the library, and we hope to continue it for many years to come.”
