New Braunfels Public Library to Hold Annual Plant Swap on April 8

New Braunfels, TX – The New Braunfels Public Library will hold its annual plant swap on Wednesday, April 8th from 5:30 to 7:00 p.m. on the library's front porch. This long-running event allows members of the community to bring in and exchange plants, cuttings and seeds. Over the years, many native and adapted plants have found new homes through this program.

Plants and cuttings brought to the swap should be in containers or bags and labeled with plant name, if known. They should also include simple care instructions.

Registration begins at 5:30 p.m. for this round-robin event. The library is located at 700 E. Common Street in New Braunfels.

For more information about the plant swap contact Public Services Librarian Alix Samuels at 830-221-4316.
