New Braunfels Public Library Internet Cards Now Available Online

New Braunfels, TX — If you're wishing you had access to the library's full catalog and resources to enjoy while you're at home, then it's your lucky day. The application for Internet cards, which gives users access to all of the New Braunfels Public Library's electronic resources, is now available online.

Internet cards are available to anyone in New Braunfels and the San Antonio metro area who applies until the library reopens. At that point, standard card eligibility will go back into effect. Standard eligibility is a city resident, an ETJ resident, or anyone with a New Braunfels address. To sign up, go to the library's online catalog at newbraunfels.biblionix.com/catalog and click the "Signup" button in the top right corner to access the application form.

After the form is filled out and submitted, the information will be sent to library staff, who will process the application and then contact the applicant with the card information and password. Library staff members are working Monday-Friday from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. Applications submitted over the weekend will be processed the following Monday.

Once the library has reopened, internet card holders who would like to convert to a standard library card should bring their government issued photo ID to the library to receive a physical card with a new, permanent library card number for their account.
